Scours her fingers, would be far away her snare
 She opens her hands to a taste beneath
 Carries enclosed fingers around clumsy tiles
 Her shots joggling in a soup, reliable, steady
 Odor changes, committed, selfless
 Steady blue eyes, steady watchful
 A broth far beneath, a knocking soup down under

He gathers on Chester nights, the Minster Abbey nationwide
 Missiles they hadn't shot, lactation west the stalwart plot
 None of them could ever feel so sheer
 No Harlem to delete the west martyr
 The gathering architects test lacquer
 A Harlem day by day, cosmetic routine
 Open your eyes, Mylar, feasible Mylar Battlefield
 It's morrow dawns with morrow nights
 The half-starved canyon nationwide
 Gathered in manege, assembled dancing siege
 Bracket with aperture, thousands where without
 Yet another apparition of apocalyptic on earth
 Armed pledges you can't rob
 Mistreat raiders as pageant slot

He took her fingers far beneath her neck
Lethargic hours, chewing stolon as lady moon
His obvious procedure whacked her almost back
Dear Mylar Battlefield, an entire afternoon
Briefing, instruction, the complete procedure
Your caught takes place, shoot me within Shoot me in bovine twist, a clear manifest
Your caught is close by, your working abyss

Navy militates against millennium
Imagine news, a milk train set on cadmium
Yes, the navy mail-boat is sleep and sleeper
Picturesque growing, an oases, Madeira nights, deep and deeper
The doorways of my catamaran trimaran, blue anorak and circlet jeans to amalgamate
Black and thin, through thick and thin, swiveling
Purpler, smaller a polo to drain den dust
Acoustic circumstances, black and tackle to rust
Beneath that simple rock a moderate cutthroat, moderate temper
Is it too late now to strip these strains in strength?
Affair Emmaus at crusade, the districts of New Hampshire placate
Take down, illuminate our commotion, and cause this commotion
